CONSPIRACY TRIAL BRINGS PARTY STORIES

Detective Testifies Before Vancouver Magistrate Hearing Charges Against Ex-Police Chief J. Cameron, Joe Celona and Five Others

Morning "Pick-ups" Subject of Evidence

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 25.—Stories of quick-order champagne deliveries by a taxi company with which Eugene Valenti was identified to parties at which former Chief of Police John Cameron was host were told to police court today during the continued preliminary hearing of Cameron and six others on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the city of justice.

Valenti is one of the accused, together with Joe Celona and Lou Berwick, convicted while Cameron, Joe Berwick, Wally Cole and Joe Alvaro.

TELLS OF "PICK-UPS"

Detective James Copeland, member of the police "dry squad," cited Cole's statements in a hearing on the charge of an all-night drinking party, after which he and Cameron returned to headquarters and drank champagne.

Copeland testified he himself suggested that if they wanted a drink they had better go to Wally Cole's. They went, he said, and there Cameron and Copeland to ring (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

WARLIKE SCENES IN ETHIOPIAN JUNGLES

Events of first-rate importance in the last couple of weeks have diverted attention from Ethiopia, but the dispute along the borders of Italian Somaliland and British Kenya is still unsettled. Emperor Haile Selassie, in making his most recent move for arbitration with Rome under the League of Nations, declared that if peace efforts failed, Ethiopia would fight to the last man. Above is one of the first pictures received on this front from Ethiopia since the tension developed. It shows a group of recruits joining the rapidly growing Ethiopian army. They were shouting their war cry: "Down with the Italian invaders."

Ten Men Before Magistrate In Vancouver As Conferees Discuss Return To Camps

SOVIET HITS B.C. LUMBER

First Quarter's Exports to England Off 30 Per Cent; May Not Recover

Operation of the new Soviet timber agreement with Britain is likely to deal a severe blow at British Columbia's export trade with England in the opinion of officials here.

Figures for the first quarter of the year showed a falling off by 30 per cent in the amount of lumber shipped from this province to the U.K. as compared with last year. This was attributed to the uncertainty existing while the Soviet contract was pending.

The B.C. lumber industry, maintaining a minimum wage scale and good working standards, cannot meet the price at which the Soviet is now offering its lumber. It is stated, while still able to find market for grades which Russia cannot supply, the demand for the normal grades which formed a considerable part of the business last year will fall off. It is believed.

Teachers Protest Relief Situation

The B.C. Teachers' Federation in annual convention here today, went on record as being strongly opposed to the continuation of the present system of relief camps, as affecting the future of the youth now under their care, and offering no solution for their economic and social salvation.

The resolution will be immediately forwarded to the federal and provincial governments.

McGeer Supports New Work Plans

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 25.—Decision in the case of ten of the nineteen men arrested in connection with Tuesday's riot of striking relief camp workers was reserved until Friday in police court today by Magistrate H. S. Wood.

These ten, charged with vagrancy, were members of a delegation of strikers who interviewed Mayor O. G. McGeer, M.P.P., after the demonstration Tuesday, and they were arrested when they left the city hall after the interview.

Gordon Grant, defense counsel, claimed the prosecution had not made out a case. He said it was an insult to Mayor McGeer that a delegation carrying the mayor's message should be taken into custody.

The magistrate informed the accused that if Mr. Grant's point was sustained, the men would be released. He said the men were charged with assault and damage to property, and were also charged with carrying a dangerous weapon. The men were charged with carrying a dangerous weapon. The men were charged with carrying a dangerous weapon.

Situation At Corbin Probed

Deputy Labor Minister Visits Scene of Last Week's Strike Riot

The provincial government today prepared to take a hand in the strike troubles at Corbin, but only so far as to see what can be done to ensure the future working of the mine there.

Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor, left here yesterday evening for Corbin to investigate the situation. He is expected to arrive there today.

Mr. Bell pointed out that the province was intervening particularly in the dispute between the strikers and the company as this comes within Dominion jurisdiction under the development and conservation of the minerals act.

What the labor department is more interested in is the future prospects for work when the strike is settled. Owing to lost contracts and a three before ground the company is contemplating closing down operations completely.

Should this occur, it will likely result in the entire community being thrown on relief.

The government has been advised the company proposes to start work on an open basis, which will give work to some men, although it means operating at a loss.

Accession Day Plans Are Made

Ceremony in Front of Parliament Buildings Arranged

Tentative plans for the official accession ceremony here on Accession Day, King George's silver jubilee, were announced from the Parliament Buildings this morning.

The ceremony is timed to start at 11 o'clock Monday, May 6, with the firing of the royal salute of twenty-one guns from the Citadel.

At the same time a "tea for the job" will be given. This involves the firing of rifles in rapid rotation by a company of infantry, and is stated to be quite impressive.

Brief addresses will be given by the Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Pattullo and Mayor Leeming.

The King's Silver Jubilee medals will then be presented by His Honor to the recipients who live in Victoria and vicinity. Advances had not been received from Ottawa yet as to who will receive the decorations, and as yet no list of recipients has been received.

His Honor will take the salute from a point in front of the Empress Hotel. Efforts are being made to provide amplifiers and other necessary sound equipment, so the whole ceremony will be audible all over the grounds.

Commission On Health Urged

Provincial Ministers Hear Dominion Proposal at Conference in Ottawa

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 25.—A Royal Commission to study health conditions throughout Canada with the object of devising ways of bringing the advantages of medicine to all persons was proposed by Minister of Health B. M. Sutherland at a conference of provincial health ministers here today.

The commission would start investigations next fall and would include representatives of the Canadian Medical Association and the faculties of medicine of the universities.

Col. Sutherland threw out the suggestion that the commission's personnel might also embrace labor, financial and insurance interests in order to canvass the whole subject as widely as possible.

From the findings of such a commission a general policy could be suggested that might be acceptable to all the provinces.

The plan was approved by Hon. J. A. Faulkner, Public Health Minister of Ontario, who assured Col. Sutherland that provincial health departments would co-operate in all matters relating to health. Dr. Faulkner emphasized this was a non-partisan problem.

S.C.'s POSITION

Hon. G. M. Weir, for British Columbia, discussed at length the problem of that province. One of the heaviest of British Columbia's burdens was that of financing the care of "the unfit, the derelicts and the sick" from other provinces. He suggested a plan for reciprocal care by provinces of their sick in other provinces.

British Columbia was contemplating establishment of a health insurance (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

HONORARY DEGREE FOR LOCAL MAN

J. P. BABCOCK
At the annual convention ceremonies at the University of British Columbia on May 5, the honor of a honorary degree of doctor of laws will be conferred upon Mr. Babcock in recognition of his eminent services to the Dominion, especially in the development and conservation of its fisheries. Mr. Babcock was for many years assistant commissioner of fisheries for the province and still holds the post of chairman of the International Fisheries Commission which controls halibut on the North Pacific Coast. He is author of several books and lectures on the life and growth of fish in B.C. waters. Announcement of the new honor to be bestowed upon him was made today. It comes as further recognition of Mr. Babcock's international reputation as an expert on fisheries.

Montreal Judge Finds Rev. V. Rahard, Anglican, Guilty of Libel and Fines Him $100; Appeal Soon

Montreal, April 25.—Finding the terms used by Rev. Victor Rahard, pastor of the French Anglican Church of the Redeemer here, on posters displayed in front of his church were not within the bounds of "good faith and decent language," Chief Justice Gustave Perrault today found Mr. Rahard guilty of blasphemy.

He ordered the minister to pay a fine of $100 or serve one month in jail.

Notice of appeal was given by defense counsel following sentence.

Mr. Rahard's bad faith in placing the posters, which allegedly contained statements injurious to the Roman Catholic Church, in front of his church was "manifest," Chief Justice Perrault ruled. The posters complained of were published in the east end of Montreal, frequented principally by French-Canadian Roman Catholics, and was given added force and authority by being headed "Sermon by an Ex-religious."

TEXTBOOK QUOTES

The claim of the defense that blasphemy could not be alleged except where Christ or Christianity as a whole was attacked under the English common law was dismissed by the court. The chief justice quoted a textbook on libel and slander to show that "it is the malicious intent to insult the religious feelings of others by profanely asserting at all they hold sacred, which deserves and requires punishment." He also named a number of cases in the English courts as jurisprudence for his judgment.

"In the language used and calculated and intended to insult the feelings (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Two Saanich Women Gagged and Robbed

Mrs. Margaret Scott and Mrs. Isabelle Ramsay, 119 Sims Avenue, Brutally Attacked By Desperadoes Who Escaped With Sum of $40; Police Working on Clue

Victims of an attack last night by two ruffians, who gained entrance to their home at 119 Sims Avenue, Saanich, on a pretext of renting the house but with robbery as motive, Mrs. Margaret Scott and Mrs. Isabelle Ramsay are today recovering from shock and bruises caused by the rough handling of the robbers, who escaped with $40 after ransacking the home.

The robbery was reported early today to Chief Allen Rankin of the Saanich municipal police. The police are on the alert from a description given by a neighbor, it is expected that the pair will be apprehended.

The two women, about twenty years of age, are sisters. Mrs. Scott was visiting Mrs. Ramsay on holiday.

WOMEN'S STORY

According to the story given the police by the victims, a suspicious man, called at Mrs. Scott's house on Tuesday night to inquire about renting it.

Last night at 9 o'clock, the same man, accompanied by another, returned to the house, hammered on the door and argued the two women. They went to the door, Mrs. Scott got up and on opening the door was confronted by the two men, who again asked about the renting of the house. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Army Exchange By Britain and Germany

Pre-war Custom of Sending Officers is Revived; Germany Invites Japan and Other Nations

Associated Press
London, April 25.—Just at a time when all Europe is jittery over the German war programme, Great Britain and Germany have revived their pre-war custom of exchanging army officers.

Three officers of each country, representing the infantry, cavalry and artillery branches, will be attached to corresponding units in the other nation's army for six weeks course, effective immediately.

These temporary assignments, revealed today, are expected to be followed by further exchanges.

FRANCE PUT OUT

Berlin, April 25.—Authoritative sources today said the German army was putting out "feelers" on the possibility of exchanging army officers with other nations, especially Japan. In a similar fashion to the exchange just begun with Great Britain.

Canadian Press
Montreal, April 25.—Police answered a hurried call to the home of Police Constable Arthur Boucher shortly after noon today, and found the constable fatally wounded from a bullet in the mouth and his wife lying seriously wounded with a bullet in her neck.

A revolver was found lying near the wounded pair. Both were rushed to a hospital, where Constable Boucher was reported dying and his wife in a serious condition.

Detectives started an investigation at once, questioning neighbors.

Silver Price Is Still Advancing

Effort To Save Kidnapper's Life

Jefferson City, Mo., April 25.—The State Supreme Court today denied a rehearing to Walter H. McCreary, under sentence to be hanged in Kansas City May 10 for kidnapping nearly two years ago of Miss Mary McCreary, twenty-six, daughter of the city manager of Kansas City.

The court did not comment on its action.

One legal pathway still lay ahead for McCreary's attorney—appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Miss McCreary was not harmed, her father, H. P. McCreary, paid $30,000 ransom for her release.

Kansas City, April 25.—Mary McCreary, brunette daughter of City Manager H. P. McCreary, said today she would make a personal appeal tomorrow to Governor Guy B. Felt for commutation of the death sentence awaiting her kidnapping, Walter McCreary.

Miss McCreary indicated she would suggest that justice would be served and her own life made easier if McCreary's death sentence was for execution May 10—was changed to life imprisonment.

He was invalided home from Belgium in June, 1919, making his home in Victoria ever since.

Mr. Angus was an enthusiastic sportsman, and was a member of the Victoria Golf and Country Club. He was a very popular man, and was well known to many of the city's leading citizens. He is survived by his widow, at the family residence.

The last company to get two bottles of champagne. Watson said he paid for the champagne with money given by Cameron.

Watson stated that he remained at the Gladstone all night and returned to headquarters, where they went to the club's office after 7 a.m. There, he said, they ordered more champagne from the same taxi company. He said Sam Valenti, brother of the accused, made the delivery.

Chambers, said Copeland, gave him money at different times. "He said the work I was doing was satisfactory and I had told him I was hard up," Copeland said in reply to prosecution questions. "He had promised me a twenty-dollar raise and I thought this was part of it."

Copeland said that altogether he had received $500 from Cameron, all of which he thought was added wages.

NUMBERS OF TIMES
"How many times have you been drunk on duty?" C. S. Arnold, counsel for Cameron, queried.

"I don't recall—good many times, I guess," Copeland replied.

He recalled he had been reprimanded for drunkenness by Chief Clerk.

"Were you ever reprimanded for drunkenness by Chief Cameron?" "I don't recall it. He might have spoken to me outside the office."

Copeland admitted that, while a member of the dry squad he had been at Cole's Gladstone Inn several times and had bought drinks there over the bar. He had not made any drinks for any report.

He said that in 1933 Cameron had given him the money for his personal automobile. He received it as a gift. He had told Cameron he was hard up and could not use his car.

Fellow with questions by Mr. Arnold, Cameron's counsel, Copeland said he had purchased "liquor" from the Valenti taxi long before Cameron was chief. He stated Cameron had paid him money in the way of a bribe.

MACDONALD SCORES NAZIS

Article in Magazine by British Premier Says Peace Threatened

Associated Press
London, April 25.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, in one of the strongest indictments of Hitler Germany ever made by a member of the British Government, today accused the nation of destroying European confidence in the outlook for continued peace.

The Prime Minister, in an article written for "The Leader," National Labor organ, charged the Nazis with "betraying the road to peace with terror."

The article said there are Nazis in high authority who are not even giving lip service to the cause of European stability.

Germany has acted in such a way as to destroy the feeling of mutual confidence in Europe," Mr. MacDonald wrote. "It asks other nations to accept a verbal promise of peace, while it is actually preparing to break it."

"Other nations cannot be pacified by such assurance and can only find justification for their refusal."

SYMPATHY NOT WON
"Germany has not won the honor and sympathy which it sought," the article said.

"It has aroused the suspicion of practically every nation in Europe, and it is not believed that Germany can honestly feel surprised that the conduct of its government has been dealt with with prejudice when it has treated the League of Nations as a mere tool."

The Manchester Guardian, Liberal in an editorial on "the sorrows of Mr. Elliot" (Walter Elliot, Minister of Agriculture) said that British farmers were using the government's marketing schemes.

"This is proved by their recent rejection of the fruit scheme, by the disappearance of the most important plan put forward by the Dingley commission a year ago, and by numerous hostile criticisms which are being made of the marketing thought-out by the government," it said.

A BASIC PUBLIC SERVICE

EDUCATION IS A BASIC PUBLIC SERVICE. In fact, in its widest implication it is the foundation of all services. A properly educated people should be a moral people, a healthy people, a well-governed people, a soundly-thinking people, a prosperous people. Judged by these standards society is not now properly educated or it would not be in its present predicament, and this irrefutable fact, obvious to everybody with eyes to see, is responsible for a world-wide movement for educational reform. The facilities for education—as the term is generally and quite improperly understood—have outdistanced the development of human intelligence, have been shown wanting by the melancholy record of modern times, and forward-thinking people everywhere realize that the facilities among them will have to be scrapped and the systems completely overhauled from the base upwards.

If education implies the ability to think soundly and informatively with other important implications, there is abundant evidence to prove that some of the best educated people have spent the least time in so-called educational institutions, while some of the least educated people have gone through all of the establishments maintained for instructional purposes. "You can lead a man up to the university," said the late Mr. Dooley, "but you can't compel him to think." Twenty years ago Germany was presumed to be the best educated country in the world—as far as scholastic training was concerned—but the record shows that she was more stupid than nations which had primitive educational facilities, and to-day she marches behind the egregious Hitler and his fantastic Naziism.

The other day an official of the British Columbia Department of Education in addressing the British Columbia Teachers' Federation forecast a readjustment of the curriculum of the public school system of the province. This readjustment is long overdue. The curriculum should be simplified in the sense that it should be limited to those subjects which can be taught well instead of being cluttered up with a lot of things which can not be adequately taught in secondary educational institutions, and which should be reserved for colleges and universities. Too much emphasis has been placed upon the fact that students who are well grounded in only five or six subjects stand a much better chance of employment, and are likely to go farther in life, than those who are superficially instructed in a much larger and more varied number of matters. They have better initiative, they are more practical, they are more adaptable, and they think more originally and effectively. In other words they are really better educated.

BOOKING THE EMPIRE BOAT

AS IT DISCUSSES THE OTTAWA trade pact and the British government's attitude towards them and other economic matters affecting the empire, The London Daily Herald, Labor's organ, tells us to-day that "a fiasco awaits the Dominion Premier" and that "they will find themselves confronted with a situation of grave perplexity in regard to the contemplated trade talks." It says "despite a month's preparation, the London government has totally failed to arrive at any agreed basis for discussion on the general subject of revising the Ottawa agreements on meat and dairy produce."

As far as Canada is concerned, we have the statement which Premier Bennett made before he left for England—that there was no important question awaiting solution as between this country and other parts of the empire. Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister, moreover, assured Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Opposition, that there might be informal conversations but no conferences involving Canada in empire commitments. This was the sequel to Mr. King's expressed view that, with a Dominion election this year, no further negotiations should be entered into at this time.

The Herald's concern, therefore, would appear to have no justification as it may apply to Canada. The Canadian government contends this country has lived up to its part of the contracts of 1932. On the other hand, however, it argues that Britain might very well have curtailed her imports of lumber this year from Soviet Russia instead of increasing the 1932 contract by 50,000 standards, making 400,000 standards compared with 350,000 standards last year. Britain's implied reply to this is that Canada's market for British textiles is scarcely any more advantageous under the pact than it was before they went into operation. Britain's aggressive plans to rejuvenate the country's dairy and stock-breeding industries, incidentally, affect the Dominion and the Antipodean Dominions because they will make for her increasing independence of imports from overseas. This is where the shadows of the Argentine and certain continental European countries fall across the empire pact.

Britain already has a trade agreement with Argentina and some food-producing countries of Europe—said she has $2,500,000,000 invested in the South American republic! Then she has come to a new arrangement with the Irish Free State whereby there will be a greater exchange of English coal for Free State cattle. Meanwhile, owing to the substantial rise in the price of beef in the United States, this country has been making weekly sales of live cattle to our neighbor this year, several of which have exceeded the total sales for the whole of 1933.

It will thus be seen that since the Ottawa conference, Great Britain has been doing what Mr. Baldwin, at the outset of the gathering of 1932, said she would do, that is to reserve to herself the right of taking such precautions as might be found necessary to safeguard her foreign trade, no matter what agreements with empire countries might be entered into. In the meantime, Canada has been following a similar course. Britain's 45,000,000 people can not exist on empire business alone. She must be a world trader or go under. As for Canada, she has profited to some extent from concessions granted to her under the Ottawa pact, but while her business with Britain has expanded it also has expanded with foreign countries. But it ought to be apparent that before Canada can get back on her economic feet she must restore her trade with the 130,000,000 people closest to her to something like its former proportions. That trade in 1930 was considerably more than the total value of Canada's external business at the present time.

The bickering between Canadian and British interests over grain, textiles, lumber and other products, between New Zealand, Britain and Canada over dairy and meat products, between Australia, Britain, and so on, which have followed the Ottawa pact, vindicates the attitude of those who have opposed the violation of the ties of empire by bargain-counter trafficking, and who predicted that the agreements between the various Dominions involving tariff tinkering would create friction which would imperil the British Commonwealth structure. We never had all this ill-feeling when the Liberals at Ottawa gave a British preference with no strings to it. We only have had it since Mr. Bennett and his protectionist mogul counterparts in England decided that this Commonwealth was a dollar-and-cent or a pound-shilling-and-pence proposition and could be cemented only on that basis—a foundation of shifting sand.

AN UNSOUND PROPOSAL

ANNUAL GATHERINGS OF THE British Columbia Teachers' Federation are necessarily of general public interest since they are designed to improve the standard of the teaching profession and in many other ways in themselves advance the important cause of education. Our teachers play so vital a part in promoting the welfare of the country through their influence upon the younger generation that there is public appreciation of the value of their periodical conventions such as that which is now being held in this city. It is to be hoped that those who are attending this meeting will find their stay here both pleasant and profitable.

There is, however, one subject which the press reports as having reappeared before the present convention which will not be received by the public with approval and which it is hoped will not be endorsed. That is the proposal for legislation to prohibit the employment of anybody who is not a member of the B.C. Teachers' Federation on the teaching staff of the province. Such a proposal would not be entertained by the Legislature for an instant, for reasons that are so obvious from the standpoint of the public interest that it is surprising that it should have been made at all. And no government which valued its political skin would sponsor it.

Our teachers are public officials engaged in a public service paid for by the general public, which through its elected representatives determines the conditions of their employment. The idea that teachers passing the test of qualifications in training and ability set by the province, they should have to be members of an organization in no way representative of the public before they can be employed in the public service is actually fantastic, for it would mean that the teaching staff would be controlled by the Federation instead of by the people who pay for them.

May we suggest, also, that while any time would be inappropriate for such a proposal, it is especially unfortunate that it should have been mooted now, when our whole educational structure, notably its cost and character, are under close scrutiny and subjected to no little criticism. In that picture it is embarrassing to say the least. By its very nature, particularly its peculiar relation to the public interest—not to speak of the public purse—the teaching profession in British Columbia can not become a closed corporation, or be subject to any other control than that of the public.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE BETTER WAY
The Peterboro Examiner

The local city council is to be congratulated. The Examiner believes, upon the fact that it has steadfastly refused to issue debentures to cover the cost of direct relief, but has instead followed the common-sense practice of paying for relief expenditures out of taxes. This policy of pay-as-you-go is in the final analysis the most satisfactory method; it gives a true picture of relief costs, and at the same time it avoids the piling up of debenture debts to constitute a long-time burden.

BIDDING FOR DOUGLAS
The Calgary Herald

Despite an estimated deficit of $700,000 for the coming fiscal year and a larger deficit for the year just ending, the U.F.A. Government is concluding negotiations with Major Douglas of social credit fame to conduct a two years' inquiry into the possibility of applying his system in Alberta. These economic experts come high when the bidding is urgent and the minimum cost of his services in this connection is placed at $6,000. But he has stipulated that he must be supplied with the best of legal advice on legal questions involved.

SOFT OF NUDE
The Hamilton Herald

The Nudist Theatre Guild—may heaven preserve us!—made its world debut recently at Mount Vernon, N.Y. To the laity, if that is the best way in which to refer to non-nudists, the idea of a theatrical organization of this nature is frankly appalling. Most of us are too body-conscious to be able to concentrate upon "The Merry Wives of Windsor," "Hamlet" or even "Romeo and Juliet" when performed by naked actors. We have to resign ourselves to one thing or the other—either the contemplation of nudity, or the enjoyment of a play.

The performing nudists, however, were clothed, with the women clad in patches and the men wearing high-waisted bathing trunks. And this is worse. If there is virtue in nudism, it lies in complete nakedness. A compromise between nudism and semi-nudism is worse than a contradiction in terms. It is an invitation to His Holiness Majesty.

A THOUGHT

And he lifted up his eyes to his disciples, and said, "Blessed be ye poor for yours is the kingdom of God. . . . St. Luke vi 20. When it is not desirable to be poor, we want few things to live in poverty with satisfaction, than to live magnificently with riches. St. Thomas.

Loose Ends

Up here they eat twelve eggs for breakfast—and then go out and wrestle with nature in a big way—for the snow has gone and the legs are moving down to the sea again in an endless procession.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

TWELVE EGGS

THE YELLOW nest to me, a long, lean youngster, was a fine testimony to his high boots, mainly as a dozen fresh eggs for his breakfast.

We watched the performance, dumb with admiration.

"Oh, that's nothing," said the home logger, "We've got fellows in this camp who often eat eighteen."

He seemed very proud of it. A logging crew, apparently, matches, like Napoleon's army, on its tumbling. And when you see them at work you can understand why the logging camps of Vancouver Island demand the best food and the largest quantity per man of any dining-room in the world; you can understand, for instance, why a noonday snack, such as we ate last Saturday, consisted of soup, hot-drumsticks of hot chicken and bacon on toast, steak (four to a man) cold pork, cold beef, celery on the side, chocolate pudding, three kinds of pie and five kinds of puddings, and even—just a hint to keep us going until tea time.

You can understand why the Vancouver Island logger is the heaviest eater that the "leanest fellow" in the human family when you have seen him wrestle with the great timber on Campbell River way. Watch a high rigger crawl up a tree as easily as a bear until, 200 feet from the ground, he leans out against his climbing belt and works with a mass of steel cables exactly like a master building a web. In his younger days, says the home logger, this high rigger had a habit of standing on the top of a sawed-off spar tree and performing a tap dance or rolling a cigarette, but he has long since given that up. He comes down about five feet at a time. His spurs tear into the bark and his rope sprays downward as he flips it with a deft hand.

MOVING AGAIN

THE HIGH ROOBER has adjusted that mass of cables and pulleys, and the crew is ready to go to work. It is spring in the big woods, the last of the snow is going and the logger has gone back to the woods in his thousands. The huge donkey engine is chugging now, grumbling and grinding with an almost human complaint. The hook-tender and the choker-men and the whistle punk are leaping about in the slash under the pines, and the hook-tender's signal, blowing short "toots" on the donkey's whistle. The giant drums turn, the cables grow taut. Something is thrashing about at the edge of the woods like a great fish on a line, fighting for its life—no, not one fish but six, weighing more than ten tons.

The cable is singing now and the donkey labors in an agony of snarl and steam. There are six giant logs at the end of the cable, each choked about the neck with a slip-knot of steel. They thrash and twist and bend like living things, but nothing can break the hold of the iron bands about their throats.

The cable has raised their great butts ten feet from the ground now, and only their tails drag through the slash. The mighty surge of a fir trunk in the universal forest fire of 400 years ago stands in their path. As if it were an enemy, the largest of the six logs, a giant old growth that will cut 4,000 feet, rams into the stump, head first. The stump is shattered into splinters, a great cloud of rotten, powdered wood shoots into the air. The six logs surge on, faster and faster. There are six giant logs at the end of the cable, each choked about the neck with a slip-knot of steel. They thrash and twist and bend like living things, but nothing can break the hold of the iron bands about their throats.

them on, as if they were raging towards the donkey engine and the tiny figure of the man about it to devour them. Their white, worn butts are like the blind, bleated flock of mountain sheep from the deep. Sometimes they wriggle along the ground, sometimes they rear themselves up and leap ahead as if they could not wait to reach us.

Watch them come. They are the stuff that will make the beams of stately homes in England, the walls of prairie barns, the window-sills of sheep ranchers' cottages in Australia. This is the stuff of British Columbia's whole economic system, too. It is the stuff that keeps our largest industry at work, that makes jobs for loggers and millmen, for farmers who feed them, for choppers who make their bows, for factory workers who supply them with overalls and steel cables and axes.

Watch them come. They are our livelihood in British Columbia, our main crop, with centuries of British Columbia sunshine and rain in them, with hundreds of tiny rings of annual growth in their four-foot girth. They are coming towards us, striding along the steel cables, not so devouring but to be devoured, and finally to achieve something like immortality in the door of some house half-way across the world, in a floor where children will play and dogs lie down before the fire long after we are forgotten.

DOWN THEY GO

THEY ARE ALMOST on top of us now, nose forty feet from the ground. In another second they will plunge head-first through the donkey engine and flatten us out like nine-pins. Just as we are getting ready to run down the railway track, the donkeyman—tense as a bow—drums over, the cable slackens and the six logs drop down with a hollow boom, all life departed from them. They are just so much timber now.

The leaders have been sitting about listlessly. They move slowly, clumsily in their big boots. Now, when there is work to do, they spring into sudden life. Like cats they leap up on the pile where you or I would break our necks. With a quick flip they undo the choking steel bands from the logs and the cable is traveling back to the cold deck, out there by the green timber line.

A husky youngster opens a huge steel hook like an ice tong, tosses it against a log and waves his hand. Another cable grows taut, the hooks bite into the bark, the log is standing upright, directly above us. Another cable, again taut, is thrown over the log. The hook-tender's signal, blowing short "toots" on the donkey's whistle. The giant drums turn, the cables grow taut. Something is thrashing about at the edge of the woods like a great fish on a line, fighting for its life—no, not one fish but six, weighing more than ten tons.

The cable is singing now and the donkey labors in an agony of snarl and steam. There are six giant logs at the end of the cable, each choked about the neck with a slip-knot of steel. ## Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, APRIL 25, 1910 (From the Times Files)

These Victoria must at the earliest possible date take up the question of the vast extensions and improvements to the sewerage system, in the present situation, and it is not probable that the present year passes a by-law providing for a loan of a large amount of money for this purpose will be submitted to the ratepayers.

John Smith, clerk, and Daniel McFarlane, assistant manager in the store of the Anti-Combine Grocers, who are severing their connections with the firm were given a pleasant farewell yesterday afternoon, and they are now going to enter into the business life of Stewart City. J. P. Young presented Mr. Smith with a gold watch and Mr. McFarlane with a gold fob and locket on behalf of Messrs. Copas and Young and staff.

Can Victoria West beat North Ward? Is a question which has been decided in favor of North Ward, for the Victoria West team, city champions, again failed to win on Saturday from the champions of the second division, but were able to leave the field without having their colors struck. The score, after one of the most exciting matches witnessed in Victoria, stood two all. The teams follow: North Ward—Baines, Lawson, McDonald, Taylor, P. Lawson, F. McInnes and Todd. Victoria West—Beane, Cooper, Prevost, Bailey, Petticrew, Kerbin, O'Neil, McKelvie, Whyte, Wright and Shier.

Capt. Ross was entertained at dinner by his friends at the Victoria Hotel last night for the Victoria West team. The occasion was taken to present him with a case of pipes or a souvenir of his stay in this port.

Premier Meets 500 Teachers

Colorful Reception at Parliament Buildings Given For Convention Delegates

With the thousands of lights on the outside of the structure blazing, the Parliament Buildings yesterday evening were the scene of a colorful ceremony, as the 500 delegates to the sixteenth annual convention of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation filed between provincial police guards of honor to be officially received by the government.
 The executive chamber had been cleared of furnishings for the occasion, and the teachers and principals of many schools in all parts of British Columbia were presented by Richard Cartwright, secretary to the Premier, to Premier T. D. Pattullo, his daughter, Mrs. C. S. Collicott, Hon. E. C. MacDonald and Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. George M. Weir, wife of the Minister of Education; Mrs. Frank M. MacPherson, wife of the Minister of Public Works; Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, and Miss Myalop Gray, his daughter and Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor.
 After the reception, the teachers were given the chance to wander at their leisure through the treasures of the provincial archives, examining the wonderful collection of books, pictures and historical relics of early days.
 Later, the marble-floored foyer of the Provincial Library, decorated for the occasion with a wealth of potted plants and flowers, was the scene of an informal buffet supper, during which an orchestra played.

 The party has been prominent on the local golf courses since the early part of the month, the first four being known as the "K.C. foursome." All say they are physically fit as the result of their stay in Victoria.

UNCLE WIGGLEY IN THE AIR

By HOWARD E. GARRIS
 The Balloon Dog looked at Uncle Wiggley and asked:
 "Well, are you all ready to go up in the air?"
 "If I don't go too far," answered the rabbit gentleman.
 "You won't go too far with my jumping balloon," barked the dog. "I put just enough gas in it to make you light enough so when you give a hop and a jump you will go sailing through the air with the greatest of ease."
 "Like the man on the flying trapeze?" asked the bunny.
 "Oh, better than that," chuckled the dog. "For you can't fall. Now if you are ready I'll tie my extra big gas jumping balloon to your back and you'll have some fun."
 "You said I might fool the Red Chaps with my jumping balloon," spoke Mr. Longears.
 "So you may," barked the dog. "So here we go."
 Uncle Wiggley stood still while the Pedler dog tied to the rabbit's back the gas jumping balloon. The balloon was as large as a little automobile and made Uncle Wiggley look rather small as it waved to and fro over his head.

LIKE A PARACHUTE

"How do you feel now?" asked the dog when he had finished fastening the balloon on Uncle Wiggley's back as an aviator fastens the part of his parachute.
 "I feel as light as two feathers," said Mr. Longears.
 "Try a little hop and a jump," said the dog. "But just a little one. I don't want you to go sailing through the air away from me until you have had a little practice."
 "Yes, I'll need practice," said the bunny. With the lifting balloon fast to his back, Uncle Wiggley took a little hop. Then he took a little jump. To his surprise, instead of coming down on the ground about ten feet from where he had jumped, he came down fifty feet away. And instead of landing hard he landed as gently as a feather.
 "How do you like it?" asked the dog.
 "It's fine," said Mr. Longears. "I never knew I could jump so far."
 "Oh, you haven't jumped far yet," barked the dog. "You only gave a little hop and a jump to go fifty feet. This time give a little hop and part of another one and see what happens."

SEVENTY-FIVE FEET

Uncle Wiggley made a jump and a half and this time he went through the air about seventy-five feet, landing lightly on his paws.
 "Wonderful!" he cried in delight.
 "Wait! Wait!" barked the dog. "There is more to come. I promised you could jump a hundred feet and so on. This time give two big hops and let yourself go."
 Uncle Wiggley did this and all of a sudden he found himself sailing through the air for a hundred feet. That was a big jump even for a rabbit gentleman. Mr. Longears couldn't help but exclaim that the lifting balloon helped him.
 "May I have this jumping balloon to use when I need it?" asked the dog.
 "Surely you may," barked the dog. "And over back to the dog."
 Uncle Wiggley went home jumping through the air with the dog's balloon. When he was downed at his home, he was on the path in front of him to see the dog, the dog and the dog.
 "Here's where I found the Red Chaps," barked the dog. "He gave two hops and two jumps and up in the air he went, jumping a hundred feet. That was a big jump even for a rabbit gentleman. Mr. Longears couldn't help but exclaim that the lifting balloon helped him."
 "May I have this jumping balloon to use when I need it?" asked the dog.
 "Surely you may," barked the dog. "And over back to the dog."
 Uncle Wiggley went home jumping through the air with the dog's balloon. When he was downed at his home, he was on the path in front of him to see the dog, the dog and the dog.

HERE is definite proof of the outstanding economy of using Home Gas. This is not the enthusiastic opinion of a Home Gas "fan", but the findings of a prominent Western Canadian analyst and chemist, based upon tests made with eight different makes of cars of various ages and mileages. General Motors Standard Laboratory equipment was used for each test.

In every test Home Gas made the high score. For a quick and economical start, for rapid acceleration, power on the hill, anti-knock quality, purity and more miles per gallon, Home Gas is unsurpassed.

Gentlemen:- We have recently completed a series of tests to ascertain the exact amount of Home Gas 11 required to:-

1. START the average car.
2. START and RUN the average car for one minute.

The results obtained prove:-

1. The average car will START on 15 DROPS of HOME GASOLINE.
2. It will START and RUN (1410) for one minute on ONE 1/2 GALLON of HOME GASOLINE.

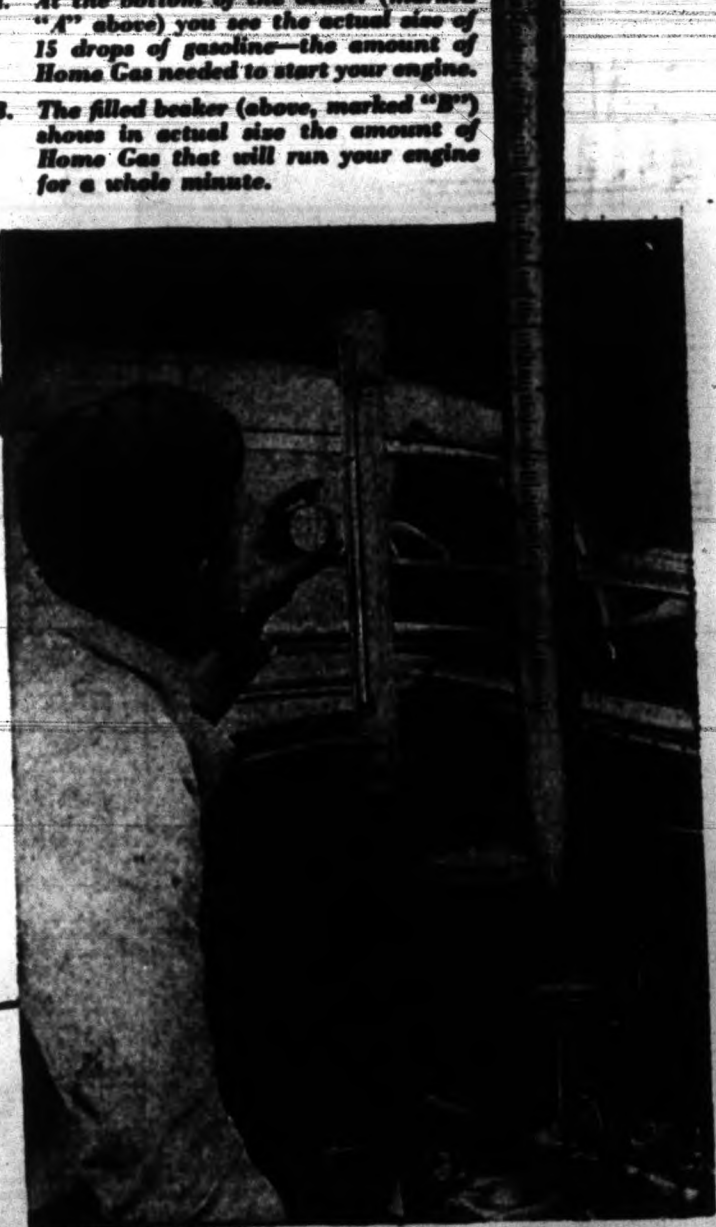

In the above tests, eight cars ranging from one year old to 25 years old were used, with mileages from 5 to 25,000.

TEN CENTS A WEEK is that a big price to be SURE of your Hair?

A simple way to keep your hair as you've arranged it—without using any sticky dressing

That's all it costs—a dime a week at the most—to be sure of your hair every day, and all day long. To know it's clean, and looks clean. To know it will stay as you arranged it. And to know no dandruff will get to the surface.

That's what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time! And the smallest size bottle will last over a month.

After you have washed your hair, a little Danderine will keep it from going better-sketter. When you pay a dollar for a week, Danderine will help you keep it. It isn't a sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave any telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance is gone quickly after it's applied—but not that marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

It's a pity not to know this little secret that means so much in the way any hair will look. It's no trouble. Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and pleasant as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of your hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy Danderine at any drugstore for thirty-five cents; larger sizes 60c and $1.00.

HAS MESSAGE FOR TEACHERS

Dr. W. G. Wilson Speaker at Yesterday's Teachers' Convention Luncheon

More than 300 teachers attending the convention of the British Columbia Education Association

Dr. W. G. Wilson, of the University of British Columbia, addressed the teachers at the luncheon held at the Esquimalt Hotel.

The function was attended by Prof. D. T. Pattullo, Mrs. R. P. Steves,
M.P.P.; Mrs. G. M. Weir, Mrs. Wilson,
Mayor David Leeming, Dr. S. J.
Willis, superintendent of education, and Mrs. Willis, Dean Buchanan of the University of British Columbia and Professor I. A. Duthie, who was awarded the O. A. Ferguson Memorial Award for outstanding work during the year.

FORMATIVE FORCE
"I look upon the public school teachers as the greatest formative force in determining the future citizenship of Canada, and the national life of this great Dominion," said Dr.
Wilson.

"You teachers do not sufficiently dwell upon the trust that is put in your keeping."

"We must have distinguished professors, and high school teachers, too.
When they are all put together I do not think their influence is as great as that of the public school teacher."

"You get the children before they are disillusioned when they believe in you more than anyone else."

DIFFICULT TASK
In this iconoclastic age it was difficult to be a teacher of any sort, said the speaker, for children knew everything. "They hear it over the air—it doesn't matter if they get it with teethpaste—and they get it at the movies."

But there were compensations, he said, a pretty well guaranteed position; holidays a little longer than most people's, in which to recover from their mental and physical weariness; and, greatest of all, "a matchless task, a serious opportunity, a mighty trust."

"No other call," said Dr. Wilson, "has quite the same kind of opportunity as you have."

Corns
Lift Off—No Pain
Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes, and calluses lift right off!
You'll laugh—it is so easy and doesn't hurt a bit!

Just drop FREEZONE on any tender, touchy corn. Instantly it's stopping! Then shortly you just lift that old botherome corn right off with your fingers. It works like a charm, every time. Seems like magic!

A bottle of FREEZONE costs a few cents at any drug store. Try it!

ISLAND ROAD WORK SOUGHT

Travelers Draw Attention of Works Minister to Condition of Highways

Assurance that improvement will be made to Vancouver Island highways in the near future is sought by the United Commercial Travelers Victoria Council No. 434 in a letter forwarded to Hon. F.
M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works.

Representing themselves as very familiar with the condition of the roads, the travelers at their last two meetings have discussed the subject.

"We feel," says the letter, "that the past policy of road building, and maintenance has not kept pace with modern needs. Had a proper highway policy been laid down years ago it is generally recognized that we would now have many more miles of payment surfacing on the island in the province generally."

Inadequate attention has been paid to "pot holes" and uneven surfaces, they claimed. The result is numerous harmful accidents for car owners.

"Vancouver Island has contributed in generous measure to provincial revenue, and has not received anything in return. The result is that the island to the provincial treasury is compared with expenditures on the island," the letter says.

Given on the recent hospital dance, showing gross receipts of $502.10.
Suggested changes in the by-laws were approved by the members. Mr.
Donahue and Mrs. English were testimonies.

Mr. and Mrs. William Horton have had as their guests Mrs. J. Bradley and her son Freddie. Mrs. A. Bradley Union; Mr. and Mrs. A. Shillie and their son Ernie.

Miss Isabel Cathcart and her nephew, Harry Cathcart, Victoria, were holiday guests of Miss Cath-cart's brother and sister-in-law, Mr.
and Mrs. James Cathcart.

Richmond Ross is home from Vancouver for the school holidays, and is staying with his parents Mr. and Mrs.
Douglas Ross, Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Inglis and their son, James Brian, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Inglis, have returned to Great Central Lake.

Miss Doris Parker is spending her annual vacation with relatives in Alberta.

Mrs. J. A. Humberd gave her annual Easter egg party on Sunday.

ainus were welcomed to hunt for eggs cleverly hidden in the grounds.

The Misses Reid and Corale Fraser were recent visitors to Vancouver.

RELIEF RAISED IN ESQUIMALT
From May 1 Married Unemployed to Receive Jones
Scale

From May 1 on, all married men on relief in Esquimalt will receive the minimum Jones scale, while all single unemployed men will receive an extra day's work per week.

This was decided at the council meeting yesterday evening on motion of Councillor Albert Head, chairman of the finance committee, which was seconded by Councillor R. S.
Going. The resolution passed unanimously.

The increase in relief, Councillor Head pointed out, would cost the municipality of Esquimalt just over $1,000 a year. This was estimated on the maximum number of relief recipients.

The largest number of married men to receive relief last year was forty-two. At the old rate they were being paid $16.50 a month, which amounted to a total of $716.50, 40 per cent of which came from the municipality. The Jones scale would bring this up to $822.70 per month, an increase of $106.20 a month, $606.48 which Esquimalt would have to pay. This would mean a total increased cost to the municipality of $51.24 per year.

The twenty single men on relief, whose number did not vary much,
with the extra day's labor, would bring the increased expenditure up to about $1,000, Councillor Head said.

Before the motion was passed,
Reeve Lockley spoke on the question.
He had hoped, he said, that the federal government would help them out. But now the government had adjourned, it would mean a long delay, and the increase was necessary immediately.

CHEMINUS
Cheminus, April 25.—The regular meeting of Cheminus Women's Benefit Association was held in the superior was read, urging all reviews to subscribe to the cancer fund. A donation will go forward from Cheminus Bazaar to Lady Beesborough.

Donations were made for the provincial rally on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 29 and 30, in Vancouver. Mrs. MacKay and Mrs. Cook were appointed as transportation extended to Mrs. Kridger and Mrs.

WILL CYCLE TO NANAIMO

Members of Newly-formed Cycle Club Will Leave Early
Saturday Morning

Between forty and fifty Victorians are expected to travel by bicycle to Nanaimo on Saturday, under the auspices of the newly-formed Vancouver Island Cycle Club.

The trip will be a leisurely one, it was stated by officers of the club this morning, and will in no way take the form of a race. Leaving the corner of Port and Blanshard Streets at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, the cyclists will travel over the Island Highway, stop for luncheon, and reach Nanaimo about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The purpose of the trip is to attend the mass meeting of the Vancouver Island Tourist-Trade Development Association to be held in Nanaimo Saturday evening. Special billets and hotel accommodations are being reserved for the bicyclists from Victoria.

Further information about the trip, which is the first lengthy one to be undertaken by the club, may be obtained from Don Harvey, secretary of the club, at 788 Port Street, or at telephone G 7827.

It is proposed to start the return trip to Victoria Sunday morning, in time to reach Victoria before dark in the evening.

While attending the Silver Jubilee in England, the Prime Minister of Australia and party will discuss trade matters, particularly those relating to restrictions on exports of Australian produce to the United Kingdom.

McGeer Called Fascist Leader

Mrs. D. G. Steeves Flays Action of Vancouver Mayor

Release of relief camp strikers and withdrawal of the charges laid against them in Vancouver was demanded in a resolution passed at a C.C.F. meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium yesterday evening.

The resolution, which also strongly condemned the relief camp system, will be sent to both provincial and federal authorities. Some 400 persons voted unanimously in favor.

Mrs. D. G. Steeves, M.P.P., North Vancouver, in speaking to the resolution, charged Mayor McGeer with "showing himself for the Fascist leader he is" in reading the Riot Act to the strikers.

Citizens should make their feelings known to the government on this question in no uncertain fashion, she said. In the camps men and boys met with impossible conditions. It was a wonder they had not walked out long before, she declared.

LARGER SCHOOL BUDGET SOUGHT

Local Trustees to Approach
With Request to Boost Teachers' Pay

Representations will be made by the City School Board to the City Council asking the latter body to consider increasing the 1935 school budget, already approved, by an amount sufficient to allow the trustees to raise salaries of city teachers by 3 per cent.

Yesterday evening, at a special session, the board approved that action, feeling it fair to ask the city to make partial restoration of salary reductions suffered by school teachers along lines adopted by the council in regard to the pay of civic employees.

Unless the council increases the school budget by an amount of about $7,000, the partial pay restoration cannot be made to teachers this year. There is no provision in the current school budget for a partial restoration.

Tashkent, Russia, is to have a new sport club with a stadium for 25,000, a sport school, library, restaurant and winter sport section.

"FAGGED-OUT" FLORA

WASHDAY ALMOST "FINISHED" HER, UNTIL —

ON ETHEL, I'M GETTING DIZZY... MUST BE ALL IN...
YOU POOR DEAR, I'M JUST IN TIME.
ARE YOU SURE I SHOULDN'T COME HOME?
SHE'LL BE ALL RIGHT IN A FEW MINUTES, JACK... COMPLETELY FAGGED OUT, THAT'S ALL. SHE JUST WASN'T MADE TO SCRUB CLOTHES...

BUT ETHEL, I SIMPLY WON'T USE THOSE "NO-SCRUB" SOAPS. I TRIED ONE ONCE, AND IT PAID MY COLORED THINGS TERRIBLY.
BUT THIS NEW "NO-SCRUB" SOAP BY THE MAKERS OF IVORY WON'T FADE A THING — YET IT SOAKS OUT DIRT IN 15 MINUTES.
WHAT! YOU SAY IT GETS WHITE CLOTHES 4 TO 5 SHADES WHITER — AND JUST IN 15 MINUTES SOAKING TO A TUBFUL?
IT'S TRUE, AND LOOK — HERE IT SHOWS HOW OXYDOL MAKES CLOTHES LAST TWICE AS LONG.

TESTS SHOW HOW OXYDOL GETS CLOTHES WHITE WITH-OUT USUAL "HARSH" EFFECT
1. Photomicrograph of laundry sheet washed in ordinary soap. Note fraying in weave due to scrubbing, bleaching and "harsh" action.
2. Photomicrograph of laundry sheet washed 24 times in Oxydol. Note that weave is not frayed one bit.

IT'S AMAZING! THAT WHOLE WASH DONE IN 30 MINUTES — AND THOSE SHEETS ARE SHOWY WHITE! BUT ARE YOU SURE OXYDOL WON'T FADE COLORS?
YOU KNOW THAT PRINT DRESS OF MINE YOU THOUGHT WAS NEW? I WASHED IT IN OXYDOL AT LEAST A DOZEN TIMES.

Women! HERE'S HOW 15 MINUTES' SOAKING DOES THE TRICK

White Clothes Snow White ... Colored Fabrics Fresh and Bright Without a Hint of Fade
This latest amazing laundry revolution, Oxydol, comes to you from the makers of gentle Ivory. It is the result of a patented process which makes mild, gentle soap much faster acting... a formula which makes it 2 to 4 times as fast washing!

Just 15 minutes' soaking to the tubful... no scrubbing, no boiling... and white clothes wash so white it will amaze you. Thus Oxydol takes the last of the drudgery out of washday... yet works with utter safety to your clothes and hands. Even deepest cotton prints, soaked for 25 hours through 100 consecutive washings, come out brilliant, fresh, and new!

With Oxydol you get thick, 3-inch suds instantly—even in hardest water. Suds that go to work on grease, dirt, stains, 2 to 3 times faster than less modern soaps. White clothes come 4 to 5 shades whiter, by actual Tintometer tests—without danger of fading colored things.

No wonder women by the thousands are quitting bars, flakes, chips, and old-type "no-scrub" soaps for this amazing new invention.

Try Under Money-Back Guarantee
Get OXYDOL from your dealer tomorrow. And unless it lives up to every claim, take partly used package back to your dealer and get your money refunded in full.

URGE HIGHER WAGE SCALE

In two communications filed with the city clerk for the council's perusal, the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, local branch, and the Trades and Labor Council voiced protests over the carpenter's wage scale set by the city.

The Brotherhood pointed out the city should not consider the scale established by contractors in their efforts to submit the lowest tender.

The federal government set its scale at sixty-five cents an hour, while the provincial government allowed 64.6 a day.

In the city yards, the communication read, carpenters were given 65.10 a day, while rough-work carpenters were paid 64.

The Trades and Labor Council also protested the city's wage scale, pointing out that Tarron's Ltd. pay 65.50 a day, C.P.R. 65.50, Dominion Government 65.20 and provincial government 65.40.

Hudson's Bay Company Is Founded in the Reigns of Stuart and Orange

Out of the ashes of the old London, devastated by plague and destroyed by fire in 1666, a new city is being built. King Charles II, the "Merry Monarch," is on the throne.

In Bedford got an obscure tinker jets down the memory of a dream and "Pilgrim's Progress" is born, to light the path of men for centuries.

Off Wapping-Old-Strait, the ketch "Nonsuch" swings in the tide of June 2, 1668. Prince Rupert is welcomed aboard by the captain. A health is drunk, a gun is fired. Prince Rupert returns to shore. The anchor is weighed and the little craft slips down the river. They go to find furs. They are destined to found an empire.

In 1669 the "Nonsuch" returns with a rich cargo of furs. On May 2, 1670, Prince Rupert and his associates receive their charter from the King. They are "The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England trading into Hudson's Bay." It is the first sentence of a history that has endured for 265 years.

In the new domain of "Rupert's Land," trading posts and forts are established. The Indians are glad to trade and business prospers. "Value for Value," a traditional policy, is stated for the first time.

James II is enthroned, admired, doubted and deposed, and William of Orange becomes King of England. Trading and furs are the chief means of importance. As ever, war is the worst calamity of business. William of Orange is at war with France. French war vessels arrive in Hudson's Bay. One by one the Company's posts, built up by a generation of fortitude and endeavor, are invaded, burnt and destroyed.

Out of the ashes of their endeavors the Adventurers are to build anew. Courage is tested by adversity.

Edmonton Grads Win Twelfth Successive Canadian Hoop Title

Defeat Windsor For Third Time In Rough Battle

Twenty-nine Personal Fouls Called as Western Champs Victors 44 to 31

DORIS NEALE HIGH SCORER

Windsor, Ont., April 25.—The Canadian women's senior basketball championship accounted for once more, J. Percy Page's Edmonton Grads entrained here early to-day for Toronto on the first lap of their return journey home, after experiencing what their coach termed "the toughest series yet," in defense of their national title.

Another chapter was completed in the team's remarkable record yesterday evening when the Albertans defeated Windsor-Walkerville Alumnae, 44 to 31, to gain the Canadian crown for the twelfth consecutive time.

It was the third straight victory for the Grads over their eastern rivals, the first game ending 34 to 30 and the second game, Monday, finishing 36 to 31. Yesterday evening's contest, while lacking the sustained sparkle of the two previous fixtures, was the roughest of the three, twenty-nine personal fouls being called, sixteen of which went to the losers.

PLAY IS RAGGED

From a basketball standpoint, play was ragged, being marked particularly by the sprawling and spilling tactics of Alumnae players. The losers repeatedly threw themselves on the ball in their effort to break up the short, speedy passing attacks of the Grads.

The veteran Gladys Fry was shifted from guard to fill "Babe" Belanger's place on the forward line and this move threw the players off their combination.

While the Grads have exhibition games scheduled for Winnipeg Saturday and "Babe" Belanger's Monday, Coach Page announced he would not play Miss Belanger, who sprained her ankle Thursday.

"I am sure she needs plenty of rest and I am anxious that she be in good shape for international competition which we are at present arranging," he explained.

Although Alumnae opened the scoring in each session, they were outscored in all but the final quarter. The first interval found the challengers trailing 13-4, and at half time the count was 20-13 for the perennial titlists.

Again in the third quarter Grads registered seven points to their opponents' six, to lead 32 to 19, while the teams matched point for point in the final, each scoring an even dozen.

FOUR PLAYERS HURT

No fewer than four players were injured yesterday evening, two of them, Hester "Bill" Churchill, regular centre of Alumnae, and Capt. Margaret MacBurney, being forced to leave the game. The other two, Rene Dominate, Alumnae player, was stopped short when she collided with Miss Munton while chasing a loose ball, and it took a minute or so to revive her. Miss MacDonald, of the losers, garnered the scoring honors of the night when she sank five field

Victoria West To Play at Nanaimo

Victoria West first division football team will journey to Nanaimo on Sunday to play an exhibition game at Nanaimo for the benefit of Jimmy Tantrum, Nanaimo player who broke his leg in a match here a couple of weeks ago. Tantrum is playing for the Coal City eleven against the Wests in a Province Cup fixture.

To-night at the Athletic Park the Wests first and second division clubs will hold a workout from 7 to 8 o'clock.

goals and scored five points on seven foul shots for a total of fifteen.

Miss Hyttenrauch played the entire forty minutes and during the latter part of the contest she continually threw herself on loose balls and sent rival players tumbling as they tripped over her.

Doris Neale, chunky Grad guard, sank six field goals for twelve points to lead the western point-getters. The majority of her shots were from well out and her accuracy had the crowd marveling.

TRACK MEETS ARE BILLED

Foremost United College Performers Compete in Two Big Events To-morrow

New York, April 25.—The foremost college athletes of United States should furnish some startling spring performances in the two big relay carnivals, starting to-morrow at Philadelphia and Des Moines, if they can match the briskness with which the rival university managers have worked to obtain the best possible "gate" attractions.

The annual battle of entry blanks between Drake and the University of Pennsylvania has been getting livelier, if not actually more dramatic, for the last few years.

This year Toronto's "Blue" Hardie, by the way, is definitely booked to compete at Franklin Field, but Drake persuaded the crack Ohio State team, featuring the sensational Jesse Owens, to shift its entry from Philadelphia to Des Moines.

To offset the loss of the "Buckeye Bullet," who turned in a remarkable feat this week by racing 100 yards from a flying start in 8.4 seconds, Pennsylvania has obtained Willis Ward, Michigan's one-man track team, and has lined up a crack field of eastern sprinters to meet Herman Neugass, Tulane, latest southern sensation.

Religan has been clocked in 9.4 seconds for the 100, with a following wind. Columbia's Ben Johnson, indoor sprint king, as well as Ward and Tulane's Peacock of Temple, another negro flier, are among those slated to test the Dixie sprinter.

Drake has capitalized a "natural" by matching Glenn Cunningham, champion miler, and Glen Dawson for a return duel at three-quarters of a mile.

MEET STELLA'S CONQUEROR

The business-like sprinter on the mark is Helen Stephens, the little high school girl who put Fulton, Mo., on the map by defeating the great Stella Walsh, Olympic champion of 1928, in the fifty-meter sprint at the U.S. national indoor championships at St. Louis. Helen took off in a flying start and finished in 6.8, a new indoor U.S. record for the distance.

COLOMBO TO MEET REILLY

Two New Heavyweights to Appear on Semi-windup of Saturday's Card

Two more leading heavyweight wrestlers will be making their debut in Victoria on Saturday evening, in the semi-windup of the main event, when "Curly" Colombo and "Pat" Reilly meet in the five eight-minute round semi-windup of promoter Fred Richardson's card.

Both well-known grapplers they should provide some first class grappling for the cash customers.

In the main event over eight ten-minute rounds, Count George Zaryoff has been rematched with Mike Strelitz. These two heavyweights appeared in a bout here a few weeks back and gave the fans a real treat with some good clean wrestling.

Zaryoff won two falls to one, but only after extending himself to the limit.

Two local preliminaries will complete the card. The first bout will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Ottawa, April 25.—In a bout of wrestling, with elbow smashes, drop-kicks, hair pulling thrown in, Little Beaver, Oklahoma Indian wrestler, defeated John Katon, fiery Winnipeg Ukrainian, two falls to one here yesterday evening.

Katon, eighteen pounds lighter than his rival, was body-slammed in 18.10 for the first fall, but came back for the second, and after a hard struggle took the second with his favorite hold, the standing inside Japanese toe-hold, seven minutes and twenty seconds later. Little Beaver won the bout with a drop-kick and body-slam in 11.25.

HOME RUN PARADE

The Big Six underwent one of the customary early-season lightning tests yesterday, with the result that Frank Hogan, Sam West and Melvin Mannus dropped out and Joe Eklund and Mark Kowalski came in. Hogan is the second man with the breaking of a last-place tie. Arky Vaughan went to the head of the list with a .465 average, although he lost three points with two hits in four

PORT ALBERNI YOUTH WINNER

Chris Peterson Wins Honors in Baseball Throwing Competition at Seattle

Seattle, April 25.—A freckled lad from Canada, whose cricket is the game, showed Seattle youngsters how to handle an American baseball Tuesday afternoon at Ballard Playfield, where he captured the championship in the first of the playoffs preliminaries of The Times-Park Board Old Woodmen baseball contests.

Chris Peterson is the name of the champion. He is thirteen years old, the son of Mrs. A. R. Peterson, 2048 W. 59th Street. Chris, with his family from Port Alberni, B.C., with his family less than a week ago, hurried five strikeouts to capture the Ballard championship.

Woodenware is a deceitful old man, many of yesterday's aspirants discovered. Among those fooled by the old silent umpire was Don Fretling, thirteen, of 5116 Leary Avenue, who pitched the first six balls with deadly accuracy, using an out-drop. Then Don "blow up" and was "struck out" by Woody.

MISS RYAN TO RETIRE

London, April 25.—After more than twenty years of unflagging competition in international tennis, Elizabeth "Bunny" Ryan, formerly of Santa Monica, Cal., plans to retire following the Italian championships at Rome, she announced yesterday.

Large Crowd Sees Spring Horse Show

Programme Sponsored By Kinsmen Club Supplies Plenty of Thrills; Tacoma Wins Nolo Match From Victoria By 5 to 1

Good horsemanship and comedy alternated in the fine programme at yesterday evening's novelty Spring Horse Show, sponsored by the Victoria Kinsmen Club and the Victoria Riding Academy at the Horse Show Building at the Willows. One thousand spectators enjoyed every minute of it.

Alderman James Adam, in the absence of Mayor David Leeming, officiated at the opening of the show and presented the prizes at the close.

The game of polo, proved to be fast and exciting. The match between the local squad and Tacoma resulted in the victors winning by a score of 5 to 1.

The tricks of "Sir Wilfred" and the Arabian horse Adunad, drew rounds of applause. "Sir Wilfred" jumped over Adunad while he was lying down, and also over a man propped up on his elbows on a table, responding to each crack of the whip like a well-trained dog.

The bare-back jumps of Chummy Carley, clearing difficult jumps with ease, were outstanding items of the programme.

The inter-service club relay, won by the Rotary Club, proved entertaining. Fine horsemanship and gay uniforms with white flags standing out against the dark night sky made the musical ride spectacular.

Pair jumping, children's riding, class riding, mustang chain in conic, trick jumping, children's jumping to teams and single, devil's jump and exhibition jumping, completed the programme.

The band of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., under the direction of Bandmaster, C. E. Baine, supplied the music for the evening.

Wall St. Advances Under Leadership Of Buoyant Metals

New York, April 25.—With silver prices rising to the highest in fifteen years, the stock market staged a buying boom today under leadership of the buoyant metals. While there were a few soft spots in evidence, and some moderate profit-taking, the list, as a whole, closed strong. Transfers approximated 1,600,000 shares.

Fractional improvement appeared among such Canadian shares as Dome, McIntyre and International Nickel. Canadian Pacific and Dominion Stores remained about even. On the curb, Lake Shore ruled fairly steady. Dominion Government bonds were flat.

Montreal funds were 1-16 of a cent lower at 97-1/2 cents.

It was a "back to the mines" market as the United States government bought the domestic silver stock at 77.77 cents an ounce. World prices of the metal were also increased nearly as much and in New York imported silver for export was stepped up 53-5/8 cents an ounce to 77 cents.

The rush for metal equities brought other categories into the limelight and the turning was the largest since last February.

Grains dipped upon the reopening of the Chicago pit after yesterday's suspension due to difficulties of a leading member firm. The cereals, however, finished above their lows of the day. Cotton displayed strength along with secondary bonds. Silver currencies shot up in foreign exchange markets, but other money were narrow.

Shares of U.S. Smelting were up nearly 3 points, and Cerro de Pasco advanced 1-1/2. Others up 1 to 3 included American Smelting, Howe Sound, Silver King, Kennecott and Anaconda. Similar advances were recorded by American Can, John-Manville, American Tobacco, "B," American Telephone, General Motors and Chrysler. Santa Fe, N.Y. Central, Douglas Aircraft, Case and others were firm.

SILVERS UP AT TORONTO

Toronto, April 25.—Silver stock sales flowed all over the mining board today like a flood of molten metal, swelling volume to the 1,600,000 mark, the heaviest turnover since last midsummer. Prices of the white metal stocks shot ahead on a jump in the world price for bar metal. Base metal stocks registered substantial gains. Golds were neglected.

Buying of the silver stocks was at a feverish rate from the opening. Eldorado advanced to 2.55, stippling to 2.85, Castle to 1.25, Bear to 52 1/2, and Premier to 180. The close was a little under these prices with Eldorado holding a net gain of about 30 cents, Castle 10 1/2 cents and stippling 50 cents.

Interest spread to the base metals. Pend Oreille, Sherritt Gordon, Sudbury Basin, Orinda, Falconbridge and Base Metals Corporation were all up for the day. Noranda added 1.50, Base Metal Corporation 14 and Hudson Bay 15.

While the golds were decidedly slow, modest calls were noted for Lake Shore, Pioneer and Dome while Bralorne and Tech-Hughes sold down. Among the penny stocks, outside the silver which were all up, Gunner and Canadian Malartic were strong and active, gains of several cents showing at the close for each.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am not yet nineteen years old but I want to marry. The girl is a year older than I am and is willing, but my parents are not giving as a reason that I am too young and am not able to make a living. I cannot deny this. What do you think I should do?

PUEBLO DICK.
There isn't but one honorable and decent thing you can do, and that is to get off marrying until you can support a family. Providing for his wife and children is a man's own responsibility and he has no right to dump that on anybody else's shoulders.

Certainly a boy has very little self-respect and manhood about him if he marries a girl and brings her home for his parents to support, and he is a still more abject and despicable creature when he becomes a parasite upon his wife's people. Bitter in his bread, for he knows it is given grudgingly, because when a girl marries, her father and mother think they have got rid of her. They have not counted on her feeding a son-in-law on them to feed and clothe.

Try to look at this matter from your parents' point of view and see what a rotten deal you are giving them if you marry before you can provide for a family. Ever since you were born they have worked hard to take care of you and give you the best advantages they could give you. They have made many sacrifices to educate you and to give you a chance in life. They have given you better clothes than they had themselves. They have stayed at home so that you could have little trips. They have been glad to do all this for you because they loved you and wanted you to have a better chance in life than they had themselves.

But they are human, and they have been looking forward to the time when their children were reared and on their own feet, when they could stand down and take things easier, and when they could spend their income on the little treats and luxuries that they have denied themselves. They looked forward to having some rest and ease in their old age. But if you marry and bring a wife home for them to support and if there are children that you cannot take care of, then you simply send your parents back into slavery that is all the harder for them because they are not strong and young any more.

Yet many boys and girls do this. Because they think they are in love and because they are not willing to deny themselves the gratification of their desires and wait until they can support their own families, they rush into marriage and bring their husbands and wives home for Father and Mother to take care of. And Father has to work harder than he ever did in his life before, because instead of having just John to support, he has John's wife and children. And in Mother's old age she is turned into nothing but a housemaid for her grandchildren.

Don't you think that it is playing it pretty low-down on the father and mother who have been so good to you? We rightly regard parents as the most horrible of all crimes, but murdering your father and mother is not much worse than slaying all of their hopes and ambitions they have centered in you, and killing all the peace and happiness of their later years, so you will do it if you marry before you are ready for it.

And, believe me, son, you will bring misery on yourself as well as on your parents. Not one in a thousand kid marriages ever turns out well. You are too young to know what you want in a wife. Too young to know what real love is. And if you marry now there are nine hundred and ninety-nine chances to one that long before you come to man's estate you will be sick and tired of your wife and in love with some other woman.

And a young man married in a young man married. If you burden yourself with a wife at nineteen you will never have a chance to get on in the world. It will take all you make, and more, to support a wife and children and you will have to work at any little job you can get because you will never be able to make a living.

Don't do it, son. If you have any regard for your parents, have some pity on yourself.

DOROTHY DIX.
DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Our club has been discussing the case of the extremely wealthy and attractive young woman who has just married a middle-aged man when she might have had the choice of so many handsome young fellows. Do you not think this girl will tire of the husband who is so much older than she is as soon as the glamour of capturing a sophisticated man of the world has worn off, and will she not then yearn for a husband of her own age?

ANSWER—The matter of age is, of course, a very important consideration in marriage, yet it does not depend upon calendar age, but spiritual age, mental age. If a girl is a play-girl, if she is frivolous in disposition, as many girls are; if she is dress crazy, party crazy and wants to live in a wild whirl of gaiety, forever going places and doing things, she should marry not only a boy of her own age but one who is as fond of fun and dancing as she.

A girl of this type is miserable married to a middle-aged man and she is equally miserable if she is married to a man of her own age who is of a sober, serious disposition and who wants to sit by his fireplace at an evening instead of stepping out to night club.

But there are plenty of girls who even in their teens are mature in tastes and thoughts. There are plenty of girls who are interested in the worth-while things of life and who would for rather spend an evening listening to an intelligent man talk than in dancing. Plenty of girls who are domestic in their tastes and who would be content to stay put in their own homes and never go to another ball. These girls are perfectly safe in marrying men who are much older than themselves.

One of the reasons that many girls do not marry is that they are so much more grown-up than the boys of their own age that there is no mutual attraction between them. At twenty the girls are women, while at twenty the boys are still kids. The girls read good books, like intellectual plays, are interested in the world movements, while the boys read nothing but the comic strip and sport news in the papers and are bored stiff by anything deeper than a frivolous movie, and want to do nothing but make whoopee.

The thoughtful, intelligent girl generally has to marry a man a good deal older than herself because the boys of her own age are apt to pass her up. But it is often better than a happy marriage because it is a congenial one. They are in the same age class spiritually, if not in years.

Marriage and money, when the woman possesses it, do not often mix well. But if the rich girl marries a man a good deal older than herself it adds to her chances of happiness, because an older husband is nearly always more considerate of his wife, uses more tact in trying to get along with her and knows generally how to handle a woman better than a young man does.

DOROTHY DIX.
DEAR MISS DIX—My husband and I have been disputing about which a husband should love the more, the wife or his mother. What do you say?

ANSWER—Why don't you argue about which you like best, roast beef or ice cream? The one taste no more conflicts with the other than the love a man has for his wife and his mother. You can comfort yourself, however, with this thought: That if your husband had not loved you in a different way from the way he loved his mother he never would have married you.

A novel and distinct type of architecture will be under heating and construction of famous importance. Simplicity of line is to prevail in clothing as well as in building and design. After the first of summer-when the women there will be changes in accordance with the season.

If the stars are rightly interpreted there is to be a season-wide movement toward peace for nations in many institutions and protection from criminals who menace life and property. They will make great efforts to check the misapplication of public funds.

I venture to say that only in Canada and the U.S.A. would the public be so ignorant—the reason cannot be the extra expense of publishing a full itemized statement, for our councilmen never spare their hand when they spend, whether it be on publicity, automatic signals or any other fool thing.

Russian Women Sailors on S. Kallin in New York Say It Is Release From Monotony of Life Ashore

New York, April 25. (By Mail).—The Soviet freighter Kallin, bound for New York, arrived yesterday morning with a load of live and general cargo and with five young women among the thirty-four in her crew.

Of the five women, two had no adverse effect on the efficiency of the handling of the ship, the first to arrive from the U.S.S.R. under an agreement by which the American firm of Moore and McCormack assumed charge of the Soviet maritime agency in this country.

The young women, dressed in dark national garb and obviously busy with their duties as the ship tied up, took time out to pose for camera men and their press. They were the first of their kind to appear on the coast of their country. One of the group, Miss Anna Tumanina, is a third officer of the ship, and another, Miss Tumanina, is a second officer. They are twenty-two and twenty-five years old, respectively.

Miss Tumanina has been at sea for two years and, through an interpreter, said she saw no reason why women should not follow a maritime career. She has been to New York on previous cruises, and she said she would like to visit the Empire State tower and Radio City and see Babe Ruth play ball. Since her trip to port, her trip to New York has been on to Boston, however, and the schedules do not call for his presence in the city during the ship's stay in port.

RECOMMEND SEA LIFE
Miss Tumanina, dressed in a well-fitting double-breasted blue coat and blue skirt, told of the efforts of the U.S.S.R. to train the young women for a life calling. She is a graduate of the Odessa School of Navigation, which, she said, is fitting many young women for positions at sea. She recommended the sea life to young women of America as a release from the monotony of life ashore.

Miss Tumanina was busy in the engine-room when the ship docked. She said she had finished her work at hand, then, with evident pride, showed her large hands, with the comment that they had been developed by "good, hard work." Two of the girls, Maria Semanova and Lidia Marchuk, are stewardesses and a third, whose name no one at the moment seemed able to recall, is an assistant in the steward's department.

The employment of women on Soviet ships has been one of the previous dockings in New York, but none had included women among its officers. The Kallin, a 344-ton freighter, was the first to do so.

of her crew, and they will head about 2,000 tons of general cargo. She is scheduled to sail April 30 for Seattle.

Vancouver, April 25.—Eugene LaFramme, eighteen-year-old high jumper and stowaway, ended a 40,000-mile adventure, when he arrived aboard the S. S. Pacific Grove of the P&O Line.

LaFramme was discovered on board the motorship when the vessel was 200 miles out from Glasgow and was enlisted as a deckhand. He proved such a willing worker that officials of the line now refuse to prosecute him.

He began his adventure two years ago, leaving home on a hike to Mexico. When he reached the Mexican border he turned out and upon arriving at New York, he set out again for Seattle. At the Eastern Canadian port he stowed away on a ship bound for London and after reaching the English metropolis went on a hiking tour.

While in Glasgow he learned the Pacific Grove was bound for Vancouver and stowed away in the ship's hold. He plans to make his home here with his sister.

The vessel under command of Captain J. Griffiths, brought a cargo of bananas from Ecuador and considerable fruit and vegetables from California ports. She will load 100,000 board feet of airplane spruce and a cargo of wheat and lead from New Westminster for the return trip to London.

Vancouver, April 25.—Rough weather was experienced on the Japanese freighter Taibun Maru and the gangplank, which docked at Ballantine Pier, gave way. Seven longshoremen escaped serious injury when a gangplank fell and dropped them between the Japanese freighter Taibun Maru and the wharf. The men were on the gangplank as they were being hoisted to the ship. Before the ship and the gangplank had been hoisted, the longshoremen slipped and fell. Seven were on the gangplank as it was being hoisted to the ship. The ship took a set out, due to the pull of the tide, and the plank dropped. Three men fell into the water, but were saved by companions who leaped to the ladder and two others clung to the gangplank as it was being suspended from the wharf.

RETURN FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Canadian Newspaper Men, on Arrival at New York, Give Impressions of Visit

New York, April 25.—Back from the Imperial Free Conference in South Africa, E. Norman Smith, honorary president of the Canadian Press Association, arrived in New York yesterday morning. He was accompanied by the Canadian Press Association's representative, Mr. J. H. Burd, managing director of the Vancouver Press, and C. A. Burd, editor of the Canadian Press.

A month's recollection about ship had enabled the Canadian Press Association's representative to give a vivid account of the conference. He said the conference was a success and that the Canadian Press Association had learned a great deal about the South African situation. He also mentioned the hospitality of the South African Press Association and the friendly relations between the two associations.

New Marine Federation Will Support Strikers

Will Go As Far As a General Strike Vote, Maritime Federation of Pacific Declares; Federation Is Powerful

Seattle, April 25.—The Maritime Union of the Pacific, strongest maritime organization of them all, to-day backed the oil tanker strikers.

"We not only pledge our full support to the oil tanker strikers," said the most powerful union on the Coast, but is promised to publicize the issue of the strike, to call for the support of every branch of organized labor and if other attempts fail to take a strike vote "and stand ready to make such a vote immediately effective."

The Maritime Federation, which met to-day to elect officers after a session of the oil tanker strikers, into the evening, adopted a constitution which bound together eight strong maritime unions, the most effective independent organized labor has the united that might be used in a general maritime strike. There are 35,000 workers involved.

The convention also elected officers of the Maritime Federation, which met to-day to elect officers after a session of the oil tanker strikers, into the evening, adopted a constitution which bound together eight strong maritime unions, the most effective independent organized labor has the united that might be used in a general maritime strike. There are 35,000 workers involved.

The convention was trying to elect a president, and to-day it was elected E. B. O'Grady, San Francisco, Arthur Will, Seattle, and Harry Lundberg, Seattle, with Lundberg a strong favorite this morning, subject to the decision of Harry Bridges, militant longshoreman from San Francisco, who was understood to prefer an office in the International Longshoremen's Association to the presidency of the Maritime Federation, but who wielded strong influence.

San Francisco, April 25.—Threat of another Pacific Coast maritime blockade mingled with hope for settlement of the oil tanker men's strike within twenty-four hours, as negotiations moved toward a crisis.

In Seattle the newly organized Maritime Federation of the Pacific, claiming to represent 35,000 seamen and waterfront workers, pledged full support for the tanker strikers, even to the extent of a general strike vote.

A. A. Rosenshine, chairman of the Maritime Federation, declared here the strike "may be settled" to-day. Peace prospects, he said, depended on just which way the wind blows.

"There was no intention from the maritime union to back the oil tanker strikers," he said. "The union is not a strike fund. It is a union of the operators giving the 12,000 men involved in the dispute until Friday to terminate the walk-out, had been withdrawn."

GIVE UP HOPE FOR LOST SHIP

St. John, Nfld., April 25.—Hope was virtually abandoned to-day for the Newfoundland fishing schooner Alaskan, long overdue from the Banks with twenty-five men aboard.

The Nova Scotia-built tanker sailed early last month for the fishing grounds and should have been back two weeks ago. She is feared to have been crushed in the ice, the same fate which is believed here to have overtaken the Gloucester schooner Arthur D. Stoney on a voyage from St. John's to her home port.

Vancouver, April 25.—Construction work on Nanaimo's $175,000 assembly wharf, contract for which is held by Pacific Engineers, Ltd., will start within two or three weeks, officials of the company state.

The wharf will be situated immediately south of the Western Fuel Company's loading wharf. Its construction will provide work for between forty and seventy-five men, not including those employed in dredging operations, and preference will be given Nanaimo residents and all hiring will be done there, it is stated. Work will be completed within ten months.

Construction of the wharf will involve dredging of berths and a channel, removal of nearly 500,000 cubic yards of material by suction dredge, erection of a cross-timber bulkhead around a portion of the wharf's "reclaimed" area, and construction of the wharf outside the bulkhead.
